Tip of the Day

The Gregorian calendar is a revision of the Julian calendar that was instituted in a papal bull by Pope Gregory XIII in the year 1582. The purpose of this calendar change was to correct for the drift in the dates of significant religious events and observations and also to prevent a further drift in the date.

Scenario:

Captain Stevens: Sir, would you know where I can buy a new watch?

Major Mohammed: Yes, I will take you to the local gold and jewelry market.

Captain Stevens: It sounds very expensive. Do they have cheap watches?

Major Mohammed: Yes, they have watches from $21 to $100.

Tip of the Day

Did you know that the word algebra originates from Arabic? It first appears in a work of mathematics titled al-jabr w'al-muqabalah written around 825 AD by al-Khowarizmi. Al-jabr means the “reunion of broken parts.” When translated into Latin four centuries later the word became algebra.

You have already learned how to count from 0 to 20. It is now time to move on to numbers 21 to 100 in Arabic. It is not as difficult as you may think. Follow along as your teacher goes over the number chart below. If you have any difficulty in learning these numbers, make it a part of your personal homework and study them on your own. The more you study them, the better you will know them:

25	24	23	22	21
٢٥	٢٤	٢٣	٢٢	٢١
خَمْسَة وَعِشْرُونَ	أَرْبَعَة وَعِشْرُونَ	ثَلَاثَة وَعِشْرُونَ	اِثْنَانِ وَعِشْرُونَ	وَاحِدٍ وَعِشْرُونَ
30	29	28	27	26
٣٠	٢٩	٢٨	٢٧	٢٦
ثَلَاثُونَ	تِسْعَة وَعِشْرُونَ	ثَمَانِيَة وَعِشْرُونَ	سَبْعَة وَعِشْرُونَ	سِتَّة وَعِشْرُونَ

Listen to the teacher read the numbers 40 to 100. While listening, look at the numbers and their English counterparts on the board. The teacher will call on each student to say the numbers in Arabic. If you have difficulty in identifying the word for a particular number, sound it out. If you are still having problems, request assistance from your teacher.

60	50	40
٦٠	٥٠	٤٠
سِتُّون	خَمِيسُونَ	أَرْبَعُونَ
90	80	70
٩٠	٨٠	٧٠
تِسْعُونَ	ثَمَانُونَ	سَبْعُونَ

100
١٠٠
مِائَةٌ

Example

Listen to the teacher read some random numbers. Match the number you hear with the written words by writing the number, in the space provided, beside the word:

٤٠	أَرْبَعُونَ	٢٣	ثَلَاثَةٌ وَعِشْرُونَ	٢١	وَاحِدٌ وَعِشْرُونَ
٧٠	سَبْعُونَ	٦٠	سِتُّون	٥٠	خَمِيسُونَ
٢٧	سَبْعَةٌ وَعِشْرُونَ	٢٢	اِثْنَانِ وَعِشْرُونَ	٢٦	سِتَّةٌ وَعِشْرُونَ
٩٠	تِسْعُونَ	٢٩	تِسْعَةٌ وَعِشْرُونَ	٨٠	ثَمَانُونَ

		٣٠	ثَلَاثُونَ	٢٨	ثَمَانِيَةٌ وَعِشْرُونَ

Exercise 1 (Pair Work)

The class will be divided into pairs. You are having an informal discussion with your counterpart after work. The subject of family comes up. You're interested in whether he has children of the same age as you. Ask your partner about his/her family members and their ages. Afterwards, reverse roles so both partners can practice.

Exercise 2 (Pair Work)

The class will be divided into pairs. You took your family to the air show at Pope Air Force base. Your three children; a boy who is 9 and girls 7 and 4, your parents, and your wife were there with you. While waiting for the show to begin, you meet your Saudi military counterpart with his family. Introduce your family to him. He asks questions about your family and you tell him their names and ages. He introduces you to his family members and he tells you their names and ages.

Exercise 3 (Pair Work)

The class will be divided into pairs. You are discussing going out to dinner with your Egyptian military counterpart. He agrees to pick you up at your hotel, as he knows the city better than you do. He needs to know where you are staying. Provide him with the address of the hotel by writing it on a piece of paper. As you hand it to him, say the address aloud. Your partner will play the role of your counterpart. Reverse the role.

Exercise 4 (Pair Work)

This is a continuation of the previous exercise. The situation is that the plan that you both agreed upon fell through. His car is still in the shop so he asks if you can meet him at his place. You agree and ask him for his address. Exchange roles.

Exercise 5 (Pair Work)

You are at a department store in the home electronics and appliance department. Your partner will play the role of the salesperson. You are interested in the prices of different merchandise items because you want to see if they are cheaper in the store or at the PX. Ask about prices of different merchandise. Your partner will respond. Afterwards, change roles and repeat the activity:

غسالة	براد	مسجل	كاميرا فيديو	ميكرويف

٦٠٠,٠٠ دولار	٢٠٠,٠٠ دولار	٥٥٠,٠٠ دولار	٣٧٩,٩٩ دولار	١٥٩,٩٩ دولار

Exercise 6 (Group Work)

The class will work in two groups. Group A is having a garage sale. Group B is attending the garage sale. Group B members see items they want. The issue, of course, is the price. Students from group A will act as the vendor, while the other students from group B will be prospective customers. Using the vocabulary that you have learned in this lesson and from previous lessons, see what can be bought. After ten minutes, reverse roles. The activity will continue until all students have played both the role of the vendor and the customer.

Exercise 7 (Pair Work)

Divide the class into pairs and ask each partner about family members. Ask for the following information:

- Names of grandfathers and grandmothers
- Ages of grandfathers and grandmothers
- Names and ages of father and mother
- Number and names of family members
- Age of each one of family members

Use the following question forms as an example:

ما إسم جدّك؟
كم عمّر جدّك؟

Exercise 8 (Pair Work)

Your wife asked you to pick up some fruit on the way home from work. You are at a fruit stand. Your partner will play the role of the vendor. Ask the prices of the various fruits. Using the price table below, your partner responds appropriately. Afterwards, change roles. Your teacher will assist if you need help with Arab customs for bargaining. The Egyptian pound الجنيه is a hundred قرش.

Item	Name	Price
	الموز	الكيلو ثمانون قرش
	العنب	الكيلو سبعون قرش
	التفاح	الكيلو تسعون قرش
	الكمثرى	الكيلو خمسون قرش
	الليمون	الدسته عشر قروش
	البرتقال	الكيلو عشرون قرش

Exercise 9 (Group Work)

Divide the class into groups of three. Each member of the group will talk about things that they bought the last time they went to the grocery store or a department store and the cost of those items. Each group will then write a report describing the various items and their prices, which they will present to the class. Use as many words from the vocabulary list and the supplemental vocabulary list as possible.

Exercise 10 (Pair Work)

You and your counterpart are going shopping. He forgot his glasses at home and asks you to read the price tags for him. Assist him by reading the prices in Arabic. Exchange roles and repeat the activity:

	الفلفل الأخضر الكيلو ستون قرش		الخس الكيلو عشرون قرش
	الخيار الكيلو خمسون قرش		الفلفل الأحمر الكيلو سبعون قرش
	البيض الدستة تسعون قرش		اللحم الكيلو ثلاث جنيهات
	الأناناس الكيلو سبعون قرش		الثوم الكيلو عشرون قرش
	السماك الكيلو تسعون قرش		الفراولة الكيلو تسعون قرشا

Exercise 11 (Pair Work)

The class will be divided into pairs. Pretend that one person is selling furniture from their house, and the other is a potential buyer. The buyer and seller must discuss the quality of the furniture, the types of furniture, the number of pieces, and the prices. Use as many vocabulary words as possible from all the previous lessons. Exchange roles.

 Tip of the Day

In Arabic, you may expect the counting system to be completely different from what is used in the English language. However, the Arabic counting system uses the same order that we use in America.

Days of the week:

Sunday	يوم الأحد
Monday	يوم الإثنين
Tuesday	يوم الثلاثاء
Wednesday	يوم الأربعاء
Thursday	يوم الخميس
Friday	يوم الجمعة
Saturday	يوم السبت

Exercise 12 (Group Work)

The class will be divided into two groups. The teacher will randomly give each group the names of certain days in Arabic. The students will have to give the English name of that day in less than ten seconds. The winning group is the one that gives the most correct translations of the days of the week. You may use the chart above as a reference.

Exercise 13 (Listening Comprehension)

Listen as your teacher randomly pronounces the different days of the week in Arabic. Then write the day in Arabic in the space provided. You will have fifteen seconds to write each word. Next, identify the days that the teacher did not say:

--	--	--	--	--

Exercise 14

You just came out of the field after a long training exercise. You're disoriented as to what day it is. You see your Kuwaiti military counterpart and he asks you how the training exercise went. You say that it went very well, but you do not know what day it is. You will ask him a series of questions to orient yourself. Your partner plays the role of your counterpart. You will ask the following questions:

- (1) What day is today?
- (2) What day is tomorrow?
- (3) What day is the day after tomorrow?
- (4) What day was yesterday?

Reverse roles so that both students can practice.

Exercise 15 (Pair Work)

The situation is that you're setting up your schedule for the coming week and your Jordanian military counterpart walks in. He wants to know what you have scheduled for the coming week. You decide to explain the entire schedule to him. He asks you about specific days and you reiterate. Below is the timetable of your activities during the week. Use as many vocabulary words as possible from all lessons thus far. Reverse roles so both partners can practice:

يوم الأحد	يوم السبت	يوم الجمعة	يوم الخميس	يوم الأربعاء	يوم الثلاثاء	يوم الإثنين

Exercise 16 (Pair Work)

This is a continuation of the previous activity. The pair groupings remain the same. You have discussed both your upcoming work schedules and coordinating things that you want to do together each day. Using the table below, the pair will come up with a joint schedule showing the events that they will do together:

يوم الأحد	يوم السبت	يوم الجمعة	يوم الخميس	يوم الأربعاء	يوم الثلاثاء	يوم الإثنين

Identify Months:

MONTH	GREGORIAN/ARAB MONTH
January	كانون الثاني (يناير)
February	شباط (فبراير)
March	آذار (مارس)
April	نيسان (أبريل)
May	أيار (مايو)
June	حزيران (يونية)
July	تموز (يوليو)
August	آب (أغسطس)
September	أيلول (سبتمبر)
October	تشرين الأول (أكتوبر)
November	تشرين الثاني (نوفمبر)
December	كانون الأوّل (ديسمبر)

Note: The Arab calendar is used only in specific Arab countries, while the Gregorian calendar is widely used in The Middle East regions.

Exercise 17 (Listening)

Listen to your teacher as the Arabic months are read randomly aloud. Write them down in English as you hear them. The student who gets all of the months correct is the winner:

- (1)
- (2)
- (3)
- (4)
- (5)
- (6)
- (7)
- (8)
- (9)
- (10)
- (11)
- (12)

Exercise 18 (Group Work)

The class will be divided into two groups. Each group will write down twelve important occasions such as national holidays, to include President's birthdays. Each occasion should take place in a different month. The group that identifies twelve or more days is the winner. You may make this exercise as competitive as you want.

Exercise 19 (Group Work)

Work in groups of three. You and your Saudi military counterpart are conducting a debriefing of a displaced person named Ali Kumar who is a refugee. You are trying to locate a lost operative named Hussein Kumar. Therefore, it is important that you and your counterpart identify the family members, to include their names, ages, birthdays, and the addresses in an effort to locate the lost agent. Record the information in the following table. Never let on that you are trying to locate the lost agent.

Name	Relation	Age	Birthday	Address

Exercise 20 (Pair Work)

You and your Arab military counterpart are discussing American holidays. Your counterpart asks you to identify the holidays and the months on which they occur. You respond by starting in January and continuing through to December. You may say the holidays in English, since there may not be an Arabic word for that particular holiday, but say the months in Arabic. Reverse roles so that both partners can practice the months.

Exercise 21 (Pair Work)

In an earlier conversation with your Arab military counterpart, you talked about family events and holidays. Your counterpart asked you what holiday your family celebrates the most. He also asked what your family does on those holidays. Write the holidays down and have the information ready. Exchange roles and ask your partner about his/her family holidays or events. Each pair of students will record the information and then report the findings to the class and we'll see what the most popular holidays are. The instructor will record the information on the board and tally the score for each pair of students. Review the activities people performed on each holidays as a class.

Name of holiday	How many students celebrate	What they do to celebrate

Tip of the Day

Countries that are predominantly Islamic may celebrate the following Islamic holidays:

عيد الأضحى، عيد الفطر و عيد المولد النبوي

The feast of Alfut celebrates the end of the fasting month. The feast of Aladha celebrates the day when Abraham agreed to sacrifice his son because God requested it. However, when Abraham was preparing to slaughter his son, God sent him a lamb to sacrifice. The feast of Almawled alnabawi celebrates the birthday of the prophet Muhammad. The Islamic feasts take place in the Islamic months that do not correspond to any of the current calendar months. For instance, the feast of Aladha occurs in ذو الحجة month that moves ten days every year in the regular calendar. The feast of Alfut occurs in شَوَّال month. The feast of Almawled Alnabawi occurs in رَبِيعِ الأوَّل.

Ordinal Numbers:

Ordinal numbers are used in Arabic the same way they are used in English. We use the ordinal numbers in reference to dates or when we list people or objects in sequence. Arabic ordinal numbers are easily derived from their relevant cardinal numbers, except for the native number “one” واحد .

Example1:

The following table lists all the ordinal numbers from 1 thru 10.

Arabic ordinal number	Arabic cardinal number
أول	واحد
ثاني	إثنين
ثالث	ثلاثة
رابع	أربعة
خامس	خمسة
سادس	سنة
سابع	سبعة
ثامن	ثمانية
تاسع	تسعة
عاشر	عشرة

Example2:

The following table lists all the ordinal numbers from 11 thru 20.

Arabic ordinal number	Arabic cardinal number
حادي عشر	إحدى عشر
ثاني عشر	إثنا عشر
ثالث عشر	ثلاثة عشر
رابع عشر	أربعة عشر
خامس عشر	خمسة عشر
سادس عشر	سنة عشر
سابع عشر	سبعة عشر
ثامن عشر	ثمانية عشر
تاسع عشر	تسعة عشر
عشرون	عشرون

Example 3:

From the cardinal number 21 and forward, each ordinal number is formed by a combination of the two ordinal numbers, separated by the Arabic letter و, as shown in the following table.

Arabic ordinal number	Arabic native number
ثالث و عشرون	ثلاثة و عشرون
سادس و خمسون	ستة و خمسون
سابع و ثمانون	سبعة و ثمانون
رابع و تسعين	أربعة و تسعين
ثامن و ثمانون	ثمانية و ثمانون

Exercise 1

Change the following English numbers to their relevant Arabic ordinal numbers, and write down the answers in the following table.

Arabic ordinal number	English number
	19
	25
	36
	55
	67
	99

As in English, Arabic ordinal numbers are also used in the definite form. To use the ordinal number in the definite form, you simply add the definite article ال to the start of the indefinite ordinal number.

Examples:

In English you say	In Arabic we say
The first of March	الأول من آذار
The third of June	الثالث من حزيران
The fifth student	الطالب الخامس

You should understand that in the Arabic Language ordinal numbers are considered as adjectives, therefore they must follow the gender of the noun they are used to describe, but NOT the count.

Examples:

Masculine application:		Feminine application:
The first student	الطالب الأول	The first lady	السيدة الأولى
The fifth chair	الكرسي الخامس	The sixth table	الطاولة السادسة

Finally, ordinal numbers are used to enumerate items on lists. In this case, ordinals do not take the definite article and they are not used in phrases. For example:

أولاً : الزواج مؤسسة مهمة في الإسلام
ثانياً : الزواج محكوم بقوانين وضعها الرسول وذكرها القرآن وأضاف عليها العلماء.
ثالثاً : تشمل هذه القوانين مختلف القضايا المتعلقة بالزواج.
رابعاً : تشمل هذه القوانين القضايا المتفرعة عن الزواج أيضاً مثل الطلاق والإرث.

Note that, when we use ordinals to enumerate steps or ideas, we mark the ending of the ordinal number with an “alef of nunation”, as indicated in the above example:

أولاً - ثانياً - ثالثاً - رابعاً

In most Arab countries, people celebrate the religious and important holidays by visiting relatives and friends. Especially on religious holidays, people visit the tombs of their dead relatives and pray for them. Children feel very happy because they get new clothes and everyone gives them money. The holidays are very rich social occasions where people who don't see each other often get the chance to do so.
